◆ Sunday, September 14
Ph.D. Reception
Main Lounge 6:30–8:30 p.m.
All incoming and returning Ph.D. students and spouses are invited to attend this reception. Light refreshments will be served.

◆ Monday, September 15 through Thursday, September 18
Vocal Placements and Auditions
Scheide Hall
Do you enjoy singing? Would you like some hands-on experience in worship leadership? Come join a choir! There are three choirs at PTS. The Jubilate Deo Choir is an unauditioned choir that meets on Monday evenings from 6:30 to 8:00 p.m.; the Cantate Domino Choir is an auditioned choir that meets on Tuesday evenings from 6:30 to 8:30 p.m. Both choirs provide leadership in morning chapel services and perform in a Christmas concert. Either of these choirs may be taken as a course (WR812) for one hour of credit. The Touring Choir is a small auditioned choir that travels to regional churches approximately six times per semester. Members of the Touring Choir receive a stipend.

Vocal placements and auditions will take place September 15 through 18 in Scheide Hall. Sign up in the reception area of Scheide Hall. Signing up for a vocal placement or audition is required regardless of prior membership in any of the choirs. For more information, contact the Chapel Office.

◆ Wednesday, September 17 through Friday, September 19
Continuing Education Event—"The Soul of Tomorrow's Church: Weaving Spiritual Practices in Life Together"
Erdman Hall
4:00 p.m. (Wednesday) to 12:15 p.m. (Friday)
This retreat/seminar is about integrating spiritual practices in community settings and restoring the soul of ministry—the integrity, passion, and wholeness of Christ. Participants will explore five Sabbath practices (prayer, discernment, faith stories, silence, and hospitality) and methods to integrate these in five ministry functions (worship, administration, education, soul care, and outreach). There will be times of retreat for prayer and journaling, music, and small-group reflection, as well as interactive presentations.

Kent Ira Groff, director of Oasis Ministries for Spiritual Development in Camp Hill, Pennsylvania, and adjunct professor at Lancaster Theological Seminary, will lead this event.

PTS students, staff, and faculty, and their spouses, are invited to attend Continuing Education events free of charge, but advanced registration is required.

Upcoming ❖ Events

◆ Wednesday, September 24 through Friday, September 26
Continuing Education Event—"Liturgy as the People's Work"

Erdman Hall

10:45 a.m. (Wednesday) to 12:00 p.m. (Friday)

Given that the root meaning of liturgy is "the work of the people," it is ironic that worship has turned into a priestly art—even in the most Reformed of traditions. In this event, participants will explore how the music, prayer, and scriptural engagement that are essential to Christian worship may become more participative realities, even in a performance culture. The leader will draw on his experience of working ecumenically throughout the English-speaking world and, in particular, on collaborative initiatives undertaken in Glasgow and on the island of Iona. The seminar will deal with issues ranging from how to teach a congregation to sing to enabling the congregation to be a primary resource for biblical interpretation.

John L. Bell, an ordained minister of the Church of Scotland and the musical director of the Iona community, will lead this event.

PTS students, staff, and faculty, and their spouses, are invited to attend Continuing Education events free of charge, but advanced registration is required.

Phone: 497-7990

◆ Wednesday, September 24
Hymn Sing with John Bell of the Iona Community

Miller Chapel 7:30 p.m.

PTS presents a hymn sing with John Bell, music leader of the Iona community and much-sought-after song leader by those who love to sing around the world. Bell will bring his songs and his ability to unleash the power of song to Miller Chapel on Wednesday evening. A minister in the Church of Scotland, Bell has written songs and liturgical materials based on the Celtic tradition in Scotland as well as on the musical traditions of Brazil, Peru, Zimbabwe, South Africa, Czechoslovakia, Russia, and Korea. His ecumenical and inclusive approach to music for worship, and his remarkable power as a leader of song, have drawn thousands to hear and sing with him. Relying only on his voice, rather than on sound tracks, concert grand pianos, or "mood" lighting, Bell conveys the simplicity of the music of the church as sung by the early Celtic peoples as they farmed, shepherded their animals, and prayed. He glories in "enjoying freedom from computers, guitars, mobile phones, and cameras."

Phone: 497-7730

◆ Facilities Announcements

Smoke and Carbon Monoxide Detectors
Residents of CRW, Tennent, Roberts, and Payne Halls now have smoke and carbon monoxide detectors in their apartments. If an alarm goes off, please try to determine which alarm is sounding before calling the security base station. This will help security and maintenance determine what action is necessary to respond to the alarm. In CRW, Tennent, and Roberts Halls, the smoke detectors are round; the carbon monoxide detectors are square. In Payne Hall, both are round in shape.

If the smoke detector activates due to smoke from cooking, please open the windows in your apartment to air out the room. Do not open the door to the common hallways, as this will activate the fire alarm for the entire building. If the carbon monoxide detector activates, contact the security base station at 497-7777. Security or maintenance will respond with a handheld meter to test the carbon monoxide level to see if there is a problem with the detector.

The smoke detectors on the main campus automatically ring to the security base station, and security patrol can be dispatched to the individual apartment. Please note: Smoke detectors in CRW do not automatically ring to the security base station. If the general fire alarms do ring, it is important that people leave the building—calmly but quickly—for their own safety until security determines if there is any danger.

Thank you for your cooperation in this matter.

Fall, Winter, Spring Pool Hours
The pool is open for the fall, winter, and spring season. Open swim hours are as follows:

Monday	4:00–9:30 p.m.
Tuesday	10:30 a.m.–12:00 p.m. and 4:30–8:30 p.m.
Wednesday	10:30 a.m.–12:00 p.m. and 4:00–9:30 p.m.
Thursday	4:30–8:30 p.m.
Friday	4:00–6:00 p.m.
Saturday	12:00–6:00 p.m.
Sunday	12:00–3:00 p.m.

◆ Spiritual Direction Groups

The Office of Student Relations and Senior Placement is offering students and spouses the opportunity to participate in Spiritual Direction Groups. The groups are led by trained directors from the Princeton area and meet for 90 minutes every other week. Participants listen for God's voice through prayer, silence, and sharing. The cost will be $75 per semester. To sign up for a group, or to receive more information, see Carol Belles in Templeton 202.

◆ PC(USA) Ordination Exams

PC(USA) Ordination Exams will be adminstered on Friday, September 19 from 9:00 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. and on Saturday, September 20 from 9:00 a.m. to 12:00 noon. If you are registered to take the exams and have not received an email from the Office of Student Relations and Senior Placement providing details for those two days, contact Carol Belles at 497-7882.

◆ Pastoral Support Group for Students Experiencing Issues of Anxiety and Depression

Many come to ministry who themselves are carrying wounds to the spirit. It is not necessary to carry them alone. There is a call to be the "wounded-healer," but there is also the gospel possibility of becoming the "healed healer." In an atmosphere of safety and hospitality, this support group for people with issues of anxiety or depression provides an opportunity to share and grow with others on the spiritual journey. The rhythm of the meetings provides time for prayer, communal silence, personal sharing, reflective feedback, and skills development. As a prerequisite to being in the group, participants will need to be in ongoing individual counseling and be able to commit to confidentiality and regular attendance. Group size will be limited.

The facilitator, Sr. Rita D. Woehlcke, SSJ MA, has a master's degree in pastoral counseling and is a certified spiritual director who led a spiritual direction group with some of our students last year. She has a special interest in issues of anxiety and depression, and extensive experience working with abuse, addictions, trauma, and family systems concerns.

You are invited to a free come-and-see orientation meeting September 24 from 3:30 to 5:30 in 158 Luce. The group will meet for five sessions every other week starting Wednesday, October 22 from 3:30 to 5:30 p.m. If you plan to attend the September 24 meeting, please contact the director of student counseling, Nancy Schongalla-Bowman, to let her know. Please R.S.V.P. by Monday, September 22. The fee is $35 and can be paid on or after September 24, check payable to PTS.

Call 497-7890 or email nancy.schongalla@ptsem.edu.

◆ G.O.A.L. Project Benefit Dinner and Concert on September 27

G.O.A.L. Project, an international non-profit addiction leadership and learning training project with offices in Princeton, plans its first benefit dinner and concert, "Healing the Nations with the Music of the Choral Scholars," on Saturday, September 27 at Princeton Theological Seminary. Call 1-888-229-2045 or send an email to mail@goalproject.org to reserve your tickets today. Tickets for the dinner and concert are $150. General admission to the concert is $25, and student admission is $15. Seating is limited and tickets must be purchased ahead of time and cannot be sold at the door.

G.O.A.L. Project is a separate 501 (c)(3) and is not affiliated with the Seminary.

Off-Campus ❖ Events

◆ Covenant Network Annual Conference—Washington, D.C., November 6–8, 2003

The Covenant Network Conference is for seminarians, pastors, elders, and lay people of all ages who are interested in an inclusive, biblically based, and progressive vision of the Presbyterian Church that includes gay, bisexual, and lesbian Presbyterians. The conference is a chance to hear speakers, engage in discussion, and fellowship with others in the denomination.

The $125 registration fee is waived for seminarians, and Covenant Network Fellowship is providing housing in Washington, D.C.

Continuing Education Event—"Liturgy as the People's Work"
Erdman Hall
10:45 a.m. (Wednesday) to 12:00 p.m. (Friday)

Given that the root meaning of liturgy is "the work of the people," it is ironic that worship has turned into a priestly art—even in the most Reformed of traditions. In this event, participants will explore how the music, prayer, and scriptural engagement that are essential to Christian worship may become more participative realities, even in a performance culture. The leader will draw on his experience of working ecumenically throughout the English-speaking world and, in particular, on collaborative initiatives undertaken in Glasgow and on the island of Iona. The seminar will deal with issues ranging from how to teach a congregation to sing to enabling the congregation to be a primary resource for biblical interpretation.

John L. Bell, an ordained minister of the Church of Scotland and the musical director of the Iona Community, will lead this event.

PTS students, staff, and faculty, and their spouses, are invited to attend Continuing Education events free of charge, but advanced registration is required.

◆ Wednesday, September 24
Hymn Sing with John Bell of the Iona Community
Miller Chapel 7:30 p.m.

PTS presents a hymn sing with John Bell, music leader of the Iona Community and much-sought-after song leader by those who love to sing around the world. Bell will bring his songs and his ability to unleash the power of song to Miller Chapel on Wednesday evening. A minister in the Church of Scotland, Bell has written songs and liturgical materials based on the Celtic tradition in Scotland as well as on the musical traditions of Brazil, Peru, Zimbabwe, South Africa, Czechoslovakia, Russia, and Korea. His ecumenical and inclusive approach to music for worship, and his remarkable power as a leader of song, have drawn thousands to hear and sing with him. Relying only on his voice, rather than on sound tracks, concert grand pianos, or "mood" lighting, Bell conveys the simplicity of the music of the church as sung by the early Celtic peoples as they farmed, shepherded their animals, and prayed. He glories in "enjoying freedom from computers, guitars, mobile phones, and cameras."

Senior Thesis Fellowship

Seniors: Are you writing a senior thesis for course credit? If so, and if you have been in residence as a middler, you are invited to enter your thesis in competition for a senior class fellowship for the pursuit of advanced study in Old Testament, New Testament, the Departments of History, Theology, and Practical Theology, or the Program in Religion and Society. Each fellowship carries an honorarium of $3,000. For instructions on submitting a thesis for a prize, please refer to pages 205–207 of the Seminary catalogue.

Senior and Middler Prizes

The Seminary annually awards two Robert L. Maitland Prizes of $1,000 each: one for the best exegesis of a passage of the New Testament and one for the best essay on an assigned subject in English Bible. The assigned exegesis passage for 2003–2004 must be related to the Holy Spirit. The English Bible topic for 2003–2004 is "Issues of Community." For instructions on submitting essays for the two available Robert L. Maitland Prizes, please refer to the heading "Prizes and Special Awards" on page 207 of the Seminary catalogue.

The John Finley McLaren Prize in Biblical Theology

A sum of $1,000 is awarded annually for the best essay on an assigned subject in biblical theology. The subject for 2003–2004 is "The Bible and Ethics." For instructions on submitting an essay for The John Finley McLaren Prize in Biblical Theology, please refer to the heading "Prizes and Special Awards" on page 207 of the Seminary catalogue.

◆ Facilities Announcements

Smoke and Carbon Monoxide Detectors
Residents of CRW, Tennent, Roberts, and Payne Halls now have smoke and carbon monoxide detectors in their apartments. If an alarm goes off, please try to determine which alarm is sounding before calling the security base station. This will help security and maintenance determine what action is necessary to respond to the alarm. In CRW and in Tennent and Roberts Halls, the smoke detectors are round; the carbon monoxide detectors are square. In Payne Hall, both are round in shape.

If the smoke detector activates due to smoke from cooking, please open the windows in your apartment to air out the room. Do not open the door to the common hallways, as this will activate the fire alarm for the entire building. If the carbon monoxide detector activates, contact the security base station at 497-7777. Security or maintenance will respond with a handheld meter to test the carbon monoxide level to see if there is a problem with the detector.

The smoke detectors on the main campus automatically ring to the security base station, and security patrol can be dispatched to the individual apartment. Please note: Smoke detectors in CRW do not automatically ring to the security base station. If the general fire alarms do ring, it is important that people leave the building—calmly but quickly—for their own safety until security determines if there is any danger.

Thank you for your cooperation in this matter.

Fall, Winter, Spring Pool Hours
The pool is open for the fall, winter, and spring season. Open swim hours are as follows:

Monday	4:00–9:30 p.m.
Tuesday	10:30 a.m.–12:00 p.m. and 4:30–8:30 p.m.
Wednesday	10:30 a.m.–12:00 p.m. and 4:00–9:30 p.m.
Thursday	4:30–8:30 p.m.
Friday	4:00–6:00 p.m.
Saturday	12:00–6:00 p.m.
Sunday	12:00–3:00 p.m.

◆ Spiritual Direction Groups

The Office of Student Relations and Senior Placement is offering students and spouses the opportunity to participate in Spiritual Direction Groups. The groups are led by trained directors from the Princeton area and meet for 90 minutes every other week. Participants listen for God's voice through prayer, silence, and sharing. The cost will be $75 per semester. To sign up for a group, or to receive more information, see Carol Belles in Templeton 202.

◆ Pastoral Support Group for Students Experiencing Issues of Anxiety and Depression

Many come to ministry who themselves are carrying wounds to the spirit. It is not necessary to carry them alone. There is a call to be the "wounded-healer," but there is also the gospel possibility of becoming the "healed healer." In an atmosphere of safety and hospitality, this support group for people with issues of anxiety or depression provides an opportunity to share and grow with others on the spiritual journey. The rhythm of the meetings provides time for prayer, communal silence, personal sharing, reflective feedback, and skills development. As a prerequisite to being in the group, participants will need to be in ongoing individual counseling and be able to commit to confidentiality and regular attendance. Group size will be limited.

The facilitator, Sr. Rita D. Woehlcke, SSJ MA, has a master's degree in pastoral counseling and is a certified spiritual director who led a spiritual direction group with some of our students last year. She has a special interest in issues of anxiety and depression, and extensive experience working with abuse, addictions, trauma, and family systems concerns.

You are invited to a free come-and-see orientation meeting September 24 from 3:30 to 5:30 p.m. in 158 Luce. The group will meet for five sessions every other week starting Wednesday, October 22 from 3:30 to 5:30 p.m. If you plan to attend the September 24 meeting, please contact the director of student counseling, Nancy Schongalla-Bowman, to let her know. Please R.S.V.P. by Monday, September 22. The fee is $35 and can be paid on or after September 24, check payable to PTS.

◆ Monday, October 6

Continuing Education Event—"Interpersonal Communication and the Christian Life"

Erdman Hall 9:30 a.m.–3:30 p.m.

We constantly influence others through our verbal and nonverbal communication, whether we want to or not. Our moment-by-moment communication affects the health of each group and community in which we participate. Because communication is such an integral part of human existence, it is important to consider interpersonal communication in the light of Christian faith. Through brief lectures, group discussion, and self-assessments, this event will reflect theologically on the communication process, identify individual communication strengths and weaknesses, and focus on practices for improving the health of the communication environments in which we live, work, and worship.

Janet L. Weathers, a member of the Presbyterian Church (USA), earned a doctorate in communication arts and science from the University of Southern California, and a doctorate in theology and personality from the Claremont School of Theology. She taught at the university and graduate level for more than 20 years, serving on the faculties of UCLA, the University of Southern California, and, most recently, PTS. She is currently the founding director of the Institute for Creative Transformation in Trenton, New Jersey. She leads retreats on various aspects of the Christian life, and will lead this event.

PTS students, staff, and faculty, and their spouses, are invited to attend Continuing Education events free of charge, but advanced registration is required.

◆ Fitness Classes Available

The Office of Student Affairs is sponsoring fitness classes again this year. Yoga will be taught by PTS student Keaton Hill, and Jazzercise will be taught by Christin Ohrel, a certified instructor. All classes will be in the Red Room of the Whiteley Gymnasium.

Yoga classes will be held Monday evenings from 5:15 to 6:15 p.m. and Wednesday afternoons from 2:00 to 3:00 p.m. The first class will be on Monday, September 29. Keaton will conduct registration before and after the class times noted above, at a cost of $4 per lesson for those who register for the entire fall session, with a drop-in rate of $5 for those who wish to attend only occasionally. The first class is free. Those registering for the entire fall session may charge the fee to their PTS student accounts. Drop-in students must pay cash at the time of each class that they attend.

Jazzercise classes will be held Thursday nights from 7:30 to 8:30 p.m. and Saturday mornings from 9:30 to 10:30 a.m. Christin Ohrel will conduct registration both before and after the class. The six-week package is $48 ($4 per class for two classes weekly) and the walk-in rate is $5 per class. As Jazzercise Inc. is handling the registrations, it will not be possible to charge the classes to your PTS student account.

Phone registration for either of the two courses is not possible—all registrations will be conducted in person at the classes.

Conference on "Faith and the Challenges of Secularism"

Princeton University

Forty years ago, secularism seemed to many commentators to be the way of the future. Few would say that with confidence today. Secularist ideas have significantly shaped, and continue to shape, the culture, politics, and economics of Western societies. Moreover, important political, social, and cultural divisions in the West reflect a conflict between world views informed by faith and those expressive of secularist ideologies. In the international sphere, the rise of militant religious movements in some nations, on the one hand, and what is perceived as the aggressive secularism of many European and American elites, on the other, increases the potential for conflict in coming decades.

This conference explores the conflict of world views from the perspective of communities of faith that struggle with secularist influences and pressures. Its purpose is to promote scholarly reflection on the challenges posed by secularism to people of faith, and the ways that communities of faith respond to these challenges. This tension is examined in the domains of law and public policy, economics, science, and cultural institutions. The conference considers faith and the challenges of secularism in the United States, in Europe, and in certain non-Western and developing nations.

The conference schedule is as follows:

Friday, October 10
"The Clash of Worldviews"
Keynote Address: Roger Scruton, British academic philosopher
Panel Discussants: James Kurth, Swarthmore College; Eric Gregory, Princeton University

"Science and Secularism"
Keynote Address: Alvin Plantinga, University of Notre Dame
Panel Discussants: Alister McGrath, Oxford University; Armand Nicholi, Harvard University

"Cultural Institutions and Secularism"
Keynote Address: Jean Bethke Elshtain, University of Chicago
Panel Discussants: Timothy George, Samford University; Gene Rivers, National Ten Point Leadership Foundation

Saturday, October 11
"Secularism, Law, and Public Policy"
Keynote Address: John Finnis, Oxford University and University of Notre Dame
Panel Participant: Frank Beckwith, Baylor University

"Economics and Secularism"
Keynote Address: Lawrence Kudlow, syndicated columnist
Panel Discussants: John Mueller, Lehrman Institute; Robert Sirico, Acton Institute

"The Clash of Faith and Secularism in America and the World"
Keynote Address: John Dilulio, University of Pennsylvania
Keynote Address: Philip Jenkins, Pennsylvania State University

The conference is cosponsored by The Providence Forum, the Center for Research on Religion and Urban Civil Society at the University of Pennsylvania and the James Madison Program at Princeton University.

The conference is free of charge, but seating will be limited. For more information, contact The Providence Forum at 1-866-55 FORUM or visit their web site at www.providenceforum.org.

◆ Covenant Network Annual Conference—Washington, D.C., November 6–8, 2003

The Covenant Network Conference is for seminarians, pastors, elders, and lay people of all ages who are interested in an inclusive, biblically based, and progressive vision of the Presbyterian Church that includes gay, bisexual, and lesbian Presbyterians. The conference is a chance to hear speakers, engage in discussion, and fellowship with others in the denomination.

The $125 registration fee is waived for seminarians, and Covenant Network Fellowship is providing housing in Washington, D.C.

◆ Monday, October 6

Continuing Education Event—"Interpersonal Communication and the Christian Life"

Erdman Hall 9:30 a.m.–3:30 p.m.

We constantly influence others through our verbal and nonverbal communication, whether we want to or not. Our moment-by-moment communication affects the health of each group and community in which we participate. Because communication is such an integral part of human existence, it is important to consider interpersonal communication in the light of Christian faith. Through brief lectures, group discussion, and self-assessments, this event will reflect theologically on the communication process, identify individual communication strengths and weaknesses, and focus on practices for improving the health of the communication environments in which we live, work, and worship.

Janet L. Weathers, a member of the Presbyterian Church (USA), earned a doctorate in communication arts and science from the University of Southern California, and a doctorate in theology and personality from the Claremont School of Theology. She taught at the university and graduate level for more than 20 years, serving on the faculties of UCLA, the University of Southern California, and, most recently, PTS. She is currently the founding director of the Institute for Creative Transformation in Trenton, New Jersey. She leads retreats on various aspects of the Christian life, and will lead this event.

PTS students, staff, and faculty, and their spouses, are invited to attend Continuing Education events free of charge, but advanced registration is required.

Continuing Education Event—"The Current Challenge of Religious Pluralism"
Erdman Hall 9:30 a.m.–3:30 p.m.

Although the United States remains predominantly Christian, never have so many other faiths been so visible. As pastors know, congregants are continually encountering members of other religions as neighbors, coworkers, and even family members. While examining the current dimensions of religious pluralism, this course will pay particular attention to recent developments in interfaith dialogue and cooperation around the country. It will also recommend resources for those interested in learning more.

Gustav Niebuhr, a visiting fellow at Princeton University's Center for the Study of Religion, will lead this event.

PTS students, staff, and faculty, and their spouses, are invited to attend Continuing Education events free of charge, but advanced registration is required.

Conference on "Faith and the Challenges of Secularism"

Princeton University

Forty years ago, secularism seemed to many commentators to be the way of the future. Few would say that with confidence today. Secularist ideas have significantly shaped, and continue to shape, the culture, politics, and economics of Western societies. Moreover, important political, social, and cultural divisions in the West reflect a conflict between worldviews informed by faith and those expressive of secularist ideologies. In the international sphere, the rise of militant religious movements in some nations, on the one hand, and what is perceived as the aggressive secularism of many European and American elites, on the other, increases the potential for conflict in coming decades.

This conference explores the conflict of worldviews from the perspective of communities of faith that struggle with secularist influences and pressures. Its purpose is to promote scholarly reflection on the challenges posed by secularism to people of faith, and the ways that communities of faith respond to these challenges.

The conference schedule is as follows:

Friday, October 10
"The Clash of Worldviews"
Keynote Address: Roger Scruton, British academic philosopher
Panel Discussants: James Kurth, Swarthmore College; Eric Gregory, Princeton University

"Science and Secularism"
Keynote Address: Alvin Plantinga, University of Notre Dame
Panel Discussants: Alister McGrath, Oxford University; Armand Nicholi, Harvard University
"Cultural Institutions and Secularism"
Keynote Address: Jean Bethke Elshtain, University of Chicago
Panel Discussants: Timothy George, Samford University; Gene Rivers, National Ten Point Leadership Foundation

Saturday, October 11
"Secularism, Law, and Public Policy"
Keynote Address: John Finnis, Oxford University and University of Notre Dame

Panel Discussants: John Mueller, Lehrman Institute; Robert Sirico, Acton Institute

"The Clash of Faith and Secularism in America and the World"
Keynote Address: John Dilulio, University of Pennsylvania
Keynote Address: Philip Jenkins, Pennsylvania State University

The conference is cosponsored by The Providence Forum, the Center for Research on Religion and Urban Civil Society at the University of Pennsylvania, and the James Madison Program at Princeton University.

The conference is free of charge, but seating will be limited. For more information, contact The Providence Forum at 1-866-55 FORUM or visit their web site at www.providenceforum.org.

Seminarians for Peace/Social Change Teach-In—"Iraq: Quagmire, Deception, and Hope?

Stuart 6 7:30 p.m.

The teach-in will present an alternative point of view from the one that dominates our major news media. Fundamental questions will be raised about the administration's case for war on Iraq. The worsening humanitarian crisis, especially for children, will be emphasized. The increasing quagmire of guerrilla war inside Iraq will be discussed. The hope for new solutions and for what ordinary people can do will be explored.

Dr. Brady Kiesling, a visiting fellow at Princeton University and a former career diplomat who resigned in protest against the United States' plans to wage a "preemptive" war on Iraq, will speak. Other speakers include PTS professors George Hunsinger, Deborah van Deusen Hunsinger, Elsie Anne McKee, and Peter Paris. Music by John Drury and Philip Helsel.

◆ Gay, Lesbian, Bisexual, Transgender, or Questioning Confidential Support Group
Are you gay, lesbian, bisexual, transgender, or questioning your gender identity (GLBTQ)? Seminary can be a hard place to deal with these issues. Please know that there is a supportive community available to you in a confidential setting, the GLBTQ Confidential Support Group. We're here, we're available, and we care about you.

If you are interested or would like more information, contact Sloane Franklin, BGLASS co-chaplain, by email at robert.franklin@ptsem.edu or by telephone, 532-7208, or Carol Belles by email at carol.belles@ptsem.edu or by telephone, 497-7882. All conversation is strictly confidential.

◆ The Testament
The Testament is a publication for creative expression by the PTS community. We aspire to be a forum for diverse experiences and perspectives. The Testament welcomes submissions of poetry, prose, short essays, photos, and artwork. The theme for the fall semester is "the land, the dead, the margins," and the deadline is Monday, November 24.

The Testament also produces a CD of original music. If you are in a band, sing solo, or play an instrument, please consider contributing to the CD. The deadline for music is Monday, March 15, 2004. There are opportunities to record. Please send submissions or questions to testament@ptsem.edu.

◆ PC(USA) International Peacemaker Program
The PC(USA) International Peacemaker Program will send a speaker to the PTS campus from Monday, October 13 through Thursday, October 16. The speaker, Alan Rey Bote Sarte, is a bishop of the United Church of Christ in the Philippines.

In addition to meeting with student groups during his visit, Bishop Sarte will present a seminar during the lunch hour at 12:30 p.m. on Wednesday, October 15, in the Mackay Auditorium. The entire Seminary community is invited to hear him discuss issues of human rights, terrorism, and global peace. Please feel free to bring your lunch to this one-hour "brown bag" event, which will include a question-and-answer session.

◆ Missing Music Stands

A significant number of black music stands are missing from Miller Chapel and Scheide Hall. If you have borrowed them, please return them to the Chapel Office. If you see any of these stands stranded anywhere on campus, please call the Chapel Office at 497-7890.

◆ Covenant Network Annual Conference

The Covenant Network of Presbyterians affirms our church's traditional, progressive vision—biblically-based, actively engaged in the world, embracing our differences, and offering the hospitality of Christ to all. We continue to work for the full inclusion of gay and lesbian Presbyterians in a church as generous and just as God's grace.

Covenant Network's annual conference will be held in Washington, D.C., from Thursday, November 6 through Saturday, November 8 and is free for seminarians, but advanced registration is required. Guest speakers include Richard Mouw, president of Fuller Seminary, and Barbara Wheeler, president of Auburn Seminary in New York City. Covenant Network Fellowship (CNF) at PTS is organizing a trip to the conference and providing two nights of housing while in Washington.

Now is the time to register! To register, find out more about the conference, or join CNF, contact Dave Bush at david.bush@ptsem.edu.

◆ The Café's Expanded Schedule During Reading Week

During reading week (October 24 through 31), The Café will expand its normal Sunday through Thursday schedule to include the evenings of Friday, October 31, and Saturday, November 1. Hours of operation remain 8:00 p.m. to 12:00 a.m.

◆ Overseas Ministries Study Center Seminars, 2004

The Overseas Ministries Study Center has announced their four-session Student Seminars on World Mission for January 2004. The general theme of this year's seminars is Thy Kingdom Come—Great Commandment and Great Commission. PTS is a cosponsoring seminary, and students may register at the reduced rate of $90 per session. Due to schedule conflicts with the PTS academic calendar, it will not be possible for most students to attend all four sessions. Students can obtain more information about the seminars by going online at www.omsc.org or by stopping by the Office of Student Affairs at 210 Templeton Hall.

Simpson College East Coast Alumni Association Lecture—"Bonhoeffer as Person"

Stuart 1

The Simpson College East Coast Alumni Association invites the PTS community to a lecture presented by Dr. Craig Slane, who was the Eberhard Bethge Resident Scholar at the Dietrich Bonhoeffer House in Berlin-Charlottenburg, Germany, from April to July 2002. He is the author of a forthcoming book from Brazos Press titled Bonhoeffer as Martyr: Social Responsibility and Modern Christian Commitment.

Slane will speak on Bonhoeffer as person. Sometimes theological categories dominate the discussion of Bonhoeffer, and this lecture will explore a more personal side of the theologian. Time will be given for questions following the lecture.

Continuing Education Event—"Finishing Strong...and Living Faithfully"

Erdman Hall

10:45 a.m. (Monday) to 3:00 p.m. (Tuesday)

Have you reached that certain point in your ministry when you find yourself daydreaming about what you would like to do when you are no longer pastor of "First Church?" Do you find yourself realizing that this may be the last congregation you serve? Are you concerned about how you will get through the next few years?

Then this two-day event may be just for you—an opportunity to reflect on your years of ministry and to envision some new possibilities for yourself as you look ahead. Participants will identify the ingredients of finishing strong with their congregations, discover ways of describing themselves (building on their skills, passions, and life/work experiences), and discern new and different forms that their ministries might take.

David C. Rich, leader, retired early after 25 years in ecumenical campus ministry and 8 years directing the retirement planning and communication program of the PCUSA Board of Pensions. Today he teaches in congregations, leads session planning retreats, and designs and conducts events and retreats on topics such as "Life Transitions," "Discerning Your Life Mission," "Aging Well," and "Here I Am...but Where Am I Going?"

PTS students, staff, and faculty, and their spouses, are invited to attend Continuing Education events free of charge, but advanced registration is required.

Erdman Art Gallery Exhibit: Tyler Hatch "In Search of the One: An Exhibition of Wildlife Paintings Based on Scriptural Imagery"
Erdman Hall
Tyler Hatch is an illustrator/painter trained at the Rhode Island School of Design in Providence, Rhode Island. He specializes in wildlife art and knows his calling to be the artistic representation of the beauty of God's creation through paintings that demonstrate a love for all living creatures. This exhibit is a collection of paintings based on scriptural imagery of wildlife that suggest new ways to know God and God's creation—through images of both elegant beauty and terrible splendor. Gallery hours are:

Monday–Saturday	8:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m.
Sunday	2:30 to 6:30 p.m.

A gallery talk and reception for the artist will be held on Monday, October 27 from 4:00 to 6:00 p.m. in the Erdman Art Gallery. Please call the Center of Continuing Education for more information.

◆ Wednesday, October 29
"Spiritual Direction and the Faith Formation of a Pastor"
Main Lounge 12:30–1:15 p.m.
The PTS community is invited to learn more about spiritual direction during a Reading Week panel presentation. A common complaint among seminarians, pastors, and others in seminary communities is that there isn't enough time to nurture one's personal faith. The results can be guilt, self-doubt, spiritual dryness, and eventual burn-out.
Spiritual direction, individually or in a group, is a way to come to "the well" and drink. It provides a safe place to slow down and listen to the invitation and movement of God in one's life experience and being. It is a perpetual "come as you are party," not as you wish you were or think you ought to be. A profound sense of community and grace can develop in a direction group as participants "listen for God" together.
The panel will include a student and three of the directors who have been facilitating groups for PTS students since the program began a year ago. All three work in church settings and have had many clergy among their "directees," so they know how spiritual direction can help form and sustain the faith life of seminarians and those who work in ministry settings.
A limited number of slots will be available for a 30-minute conversation with one of the directors following the presentation to allow for further questions and a brief experience of individual direction. You may sign up in advance by contacting Nancy Schongalla-Bowman at nancy.schongalla@ptsem.edu, or simply inquire after the panel.

◆ The Testament

The Testament is a publication for creative expression by the PTS community. We aspire to be a forum for diverse experiences and perspectives. The Testament welcomes submissions of poetry, prose, short essays, photos, and artwork. The theme for the fall semester is "the land, the dead, the margins," and the deadline is Monday, November 24.

The Testament also produces a CD of original music. If you are in a band, sing solo, or play an instrument, please consider contributing to the CD. The deadline for music is Monday, March 15, 2004. There are opportunities to record. Please send submissions or questions to testament@ptsem.edu.

◆ Covenant Network Annual Conference

The Covenant Network of Presbyterians affirms our church's traditional, progressive vision—biblically-based, actively engaged in the world, embracing our differences, and offering the hospitality of Christ to all. We continue to work for the full inclusion of gay and lesbian Presbyterians in a church as generous and just as God's grace.

Covenant Network's annual conference will be held in Washington, D.C., from Thursday, November 6 through Saturday, November 8 and is free for seminarians, but advanced registration is required. Guest speakers include Richard Mouw, president of Fuller Seminary, and Barbara Wheeler, president of Auburn Seminary in New York City. Covenant Network Fellowship (CNF) at PTS is organizing a trip to the conference and providing two nights of housing while in Washington.

Now is the time to register! To register, find out more about the conference, or join CNF, contact Dave Bush at david.bush@ptsem.edu.

◆ The Café's Expanded Schedule During Reading Week

During Reading Week (October 24 through 31), The Café will expand its normal Sunday through Thursday schedule to include the evenings of Friday, October 31, and Saturday, November 1. Hours of operation remain 8:00 p.m. to 12:00 a.m.

◆ Overseas Ministries Study Center Seminars, 2004

The Overseas Ministries Study Center has announced their four-session Student Seminars on World Mission for January 2004. The general theme of this year's seminars is Thy Kingdom Come—Great Commandment and Great Commission. PTS is a cosponsoring seminary, and students may register at the reduced rate of $90 per session. Due to schedule conflicts with the PTS academic calendar, it will not be possible for most students to attend all four sessions. Students can obtain more information about the seminars by going online at www.omsc.org or by stopping by the Office of Student Affairs at 210 Templeton Hall.

Continuing Education Event—"The Fifth Evangelist": Isaiah in Christian Preaching for Advent and Christmas

Erdman Hall 9:30 a.m.–3:30 p.m.

The earliest Christians looked to Israel's scriptures to interpret the significance of the birth, life, death, and resurrection of Jesus for Israel and for the world. Chief among the texts to which they turned was the Book of Isaiah. In fact, so prominent is Isaiah in the New Testament and in patristic writings that the prophet is often termed "the fifth evangelist." This event will offer an exegetical and theological study of the texts from Isaiah that have been formative for Christian reflection on the coming of Christ. Giving attention to the early Christian use of Isaiah in art as well as in homiletical and theological works, participants will seek fresh resources for preaching the message of waiting and hope embodied in our own celebrations of Advent and Christmas.

J. Ross Wagner, PTS's assistant professor of New Testament, will lead this event.

PTS students, staff, and faculty, and their spouses are invited to attend Continuing Education events, but advanced registration is required. Most events are free of charge, but some restrictions do apply. Please contact Continuing Education for more information.

Continuing Education Event—"The Visual Arts in Christian Traditions"

Erdman Hall 9:30 a.m.–3:30 p.m.

The Reformation took a skeptical view of the visual arts in the Christian life, especially art in the context of public worship. On the principle of eradicating idolatry, Reformed Christians sought to eliminate painting and sculpture and figural mosaics from their places of Christian worship. This had multiple consequences—Reformed places of worship were typically transformed into aniconic (imageless) environments. There has been some rethinking of this issue in recent times, centering on the question: what role, if any, should be given to the visual arts within Protestant Christianity, especially within its Reformed branch?

The morning session will be a historical overview of art, including its use in catacombs and sarcophagi (funerary settings), churches and baptisteries (public worship), pilgrimage sites and martyr cult sites (popular settings of early Christian piety), and family and private settings. The afternoon session will include a discussion of the applications of the arts in today's Reformed and other Protestant settings.

P. Corby Finney, professor emeritus at the University of Missouri-St. Louis, will lead this event.

PTS students, staff, and faculty, and their spouses are invited to attend Continuing Education events, but advanced registration is required. Most events are free of charge, but some restrictions do apply. Please contact Continuing Education for more information.

Continuing Education Event—"Finding the Oasis: Smaller Congregations Seeking and Sharing Living Water"

Erdman Hall

10:45 a.m. (Thursday) to 3:00 p.m. (Friday)

Those of a fearful mind-set tremble at the current mainline denominational church size: more than 50 percent of mainline denominational churches register membership at 250 members or fewer. Yet powerful things are happening through the movement of the Spirit in smaller congregations. This event examines some of the current challenges facing smaller churches—rural and small town churches of similar membership size—and makes available some of the resources helpful in addressing those challenges. Participants will explore innovative responses to the challenging opportunities for ministry in smaller communities. Special attention will be given to biblical and theological resources within our Christian tradition—including the recent PCUSA initiative "We Are What We Eat"—for hopeful yet realistic ministry in contemporary smaller churches.

John H. Young, assistant professor of practical studies and director of the Rural Ministry Program at Queen's Theological College in Kingston, Ontario, will lead this event.

PTS students, staff, and faculty, and their spouses are invited to attend Continuing Education events, but advanced registration is required. Most events are free of charge, but some restrictions do apply. Please contact Continuing Education for more information.

Fall Spiritual Retreat with Kent Ira Groff

Johnsonburg Presbyterian Camp and Conference Center, 822 Route 519, Johnsonburg, New Jersey
10:00 a.m. (Wednesday) to 3:00 p.m. (Thursday)

This retreat will focus on integrating spiritual practices in personal, family, and community life and restoring the soul of ministry—the integrity, passion, and wholeness of Christ.

Exploration includes the practices of prayer, discernment, faith-stories, silence, and hospitality, and methods to integrate these in worship, administration, education, soul care, and outreach.

There will be quiet times for meditation, journaling, music, and small group reflection. Bring your Bible and a notebook or journal.

Dr. Kent Ira Groff, founding mentor of Oasis Ministries for Spiritual Development, adjunct professor at Lancaster Theological Seminary, and an associate of Holy Cross Monastery in West Park, New York, will lead this event. The retreat is based on his book, The Soul of Tomorrow's Church: Weaving Spiritual Practices in Ministry Together.

Cost for the retreat is $125 per person, and includes a private room and four meals. Please call Johnsonburg Presbyterian Camp and Conference Center at 908-852-2349 for more information or for prices for day participants and double occupancy.

◆ Saturday, November 15
Fall Concert: "Sacred Symphonies" featuring the Cantate Domino Choir, Mimeistry International directed by Todd Farley, and narration by Eugene Lowry
Miller Chapel 8:00 p.m.

The Cantate Domino Choir, directed by Martin Tel, the Seminary's C.F. Seabrook Director of Music, will perform the "Sacred Symphonies," a musical set composed by Alice Parker.

In the tradition of the cantatas of Heinrich Schütz, Parker's works reenact familiar Bible stories, with the chorus singing the dialogue of the participants. In Parker's words, "The intent is to bring performers and listeners alike into the heart of the story, making them part of the scene."

In place of a closing chorale, each symphony concludes with an American mountain tune with a text that forms a poetic response to the story.

The biblical stories will be furthered illuminated by a troupe of mime artists, directed by Todd Farley, artistic director of Mimeistry International and artist-in-residence at the Brehm Center of Worship, Theology and the Arts at Fuller Theological Seminary. And, in further homage to the cantatas of Schütz, the biblical stories will be preached through a series of narrations prepared and performed by

History Department Lecture—"Conceptions of Redemption, Blood, and Suffering in the Later Middle Ages: Their Context and Afterlife"

Main Lounge 7:30 p.m.

Dr. Caroline Walker Bynum, professor of Western medieval history at the Institute for Advanced Study, will speak on "Conceptions of Redemption, Blood, and Suffering in the Later Middle Ages: Their Context and Afterlife."

Bynum teaches medieval European history with a special interest in women's piety, the history of theology and philosophy, and the social background of ideas. She has taught at Harvard University, the University of Washington, and Columbia University, where she held the A. and Alma Schapiro Chair in History. Her publications include Docere Verbo et Exemplo (1979), Jesus as Mother (1982), Holy Feast and Holy Fast (1987), Fragmentation and Redemption (1991), and The Resurrection of the Body in Western Christianity: 200–1336 (1995). She is currently working on the cult of the blood of Christ in the later Middle Ages.

Bynum will discuss the technical theology of redemption as elaborated by 12th-to-15th-century theologians and place this theology in its broader context of art and popular piety. She will also discuss two legacies of this piety and theology, arguing that modern emphasis on, first, the experience of pain and, second, the body as locus of human identity, have roots in the religion of the later Middle Ages.

General ❖ Notices

◆ The Testament

The Testament is a publication for creative expression by the PTS community. We aspire to be a forum for diverse experiences and perspectives. The Testament welcomes submissions of poetry, prose, short essays, photos, and artwork. The theme for the fall semester is "the land, the dead, the margins," and the deadline is Monday, November 24.

The Testament also produces a CD of original music. If you are in a band, sing solo, or play an instrument, please consider contributing to the CD. The deadline for music is Monday, March 15, 2004. There are opportunities to record. Please send submissions or questions to testament@ptsem.edu.

◆ David H.C. Read Preacher/Scholar Award

Madison Avenue Presbyterian Church announces the David H.C. Read Preacher/Scholar Award to recognize excellence among seminarians who show outstanding promise as preachers and scholars. PTS is permitted two nominees for this $10,000 prize. Applicants must be in their final year of the M.Div. program, in academic good standing, scheduled to receive their degrees in May 2004, and vocationally committed to the parish ministry.

To be considered for nomination, please submit a typed, double-spaced sermon to Lois Haydu in Templeton 103, by Friday, December 5. A committee of the preaching/speech faculty will select two PTS nominees. The students selected will then be required to submit additional materials (including two sermons and two exegetical papers) to the Preacher/Scholar Award Committee. Winners will be determined and announced by Madison Avenue Church on or about April 30, 2004. For more information, contact Lois Haydu at 497-7963.

◆ Midday Prayer

Looking for a way to refocus in the afternoon? Longing to pray with others regularly for your life, your friends/family, the campus, the city, and the world?

The PTS community is invited to join an informal prayer in the Mackay Auditorium on Tuesdays, Thursdays, and Fridays, from 1:00 to 1:30 p.m. Come and go whenever you please, on whatever days you can.

The idea is to come and pray together, and go on with the day—rather than share lengthy requests, talking, etc. There will always be someone there to facilitate, and maybe offer a Scripture to think on; if you're interested in being available to facilitate one day a week, please email Carilyn Pattison at carilyn.pattison@ptsem.edu.

It's a great opportunity, open to everyone: enjoy the gift of gathering in God's name, and seeing Him at work in and through our community.

New Jersey State Prison Documentary—"How Do You Spell Murder?"

Nassau Presbyterian Church 7:30 p.m.
61 Nassau Street, Princeton

Nassau Presbyterian Church presents "How Do You Spell Murder?" a documentary that focuses on an inmate-run literacy program at the New Jersey State Prison in Trenton. The film is part of a fundraiser organized by ABC Literacy Resources, a tutor training and literacy advocacy project run by area volunteers. The documentary is produced by award-winning filmmakers Alan and Susan Raymond, and chronicles a year in the life of prisoners who have overcome illiteracy and now work to help others do the same.

The film also provides an inside view of the oldest continuously operating prison in the United States. Built in 1831, the New Jersey State Prison was visited by both Dickens and de Toqueville. Today, it is a maximum security facility whose inmates serve sentences averaging fifty years.

The film will be followed by a discussion with the filmmakers which will explore the relationship between illiteracy and crime. A donation of $10 for adults and $5 for students and seniors is suggested for the film. ABC Literacy will also host a pre-film dinner at 6:00 p.m. at the Nassau Presbyterian Church at a cost of $10.

Advance registration for the dinner is required and may be made by calling 609-924-8251 or 609-924-0103. More information about ABC Literacy Resources, including poems written by inmates, can be found at the group's web site, abcliteracy.org.

Fall Spiritual Retreat with Kent Ira Groff

Johnsonburg Presbyterian Camp and Conference Center, 822 Route 519, Johnsonburg, New Jersey
10:00 a.m. (Wednesday) to 3:00 p.m. (Thursday)

This retreat will focus on integrating spiritual practices in personal, family, and community life and restoring the soul of ministry—the integrity, passion, and wholeness of Christ.

Exploration includes the practices of prayer, discernment, faith-stories, silence, and hospitality, and methods to integrate these in worship, administration, education, soul care, and outreach.

There will be quiet times for meditation, journaling, music, and small group reflection. Bring your Bible and a notebook or journal.

Dr. Kent Ira Groff, founding mentor of Oasis Ministries for Spiritual Development, adjunct professor at Lancaster Theological Seminary, and an associate of Holy Cross Monastery in West Park, New York, will lead this event. The retreat is based on his book, The Soul of Tomorrow's Church: Weaving Spiritual Practices in Ministry Together.

Cost for the retreat is $125 per person, and includes a private room and four meals. Please call Johnsonburg Presbyterian Camp and Conference Center at 908-852-2349 for more information or for prices for day participants and double occupancy.

Continuing Education Event—"How to Be a Coaching Pastor"

Erdman Hall

10:45 a.m. (Monday) to 3:00 p.m. (Tuesday)

Coaching means more than training or managing. Coaching includes support, encouragement, and commitment among those involved. Good coaching develops a team. A good team develops its members. A good coach equips the team and sends it into play the game, to make mistakes, and to win!

Participants in this hands-on workshop will learn (1) the elements of good pastoral coaching, (2) the methods and the objectives of pastoral coaching so that elders may also become coaches "for the equipping of the saints, for the work of ministry, for the building up of the body of Christ ...," and (3) how to introduce coaching into the local church. Relational leadership has arrived, and coaching will become its most resilient strength.

Harry E. Chase, former pastor of The Presbyterian Church at Tenafly in Tenafly, New Jersey, will lead this event.

PTS students, staff, and faculty, and their spouses are invited to attend Continuing Education events, but advanced registration is required. Most events are free of charge, but some restrictions do apply. Please contact Continuing Education for more information.

History Department Lecture—"Conceptions of Redemption, Blood, and Suffering in the Later Middle Ages: Their Context and Afterlife"
Main Lounge 7:30 p.m.

Dr. Caroline Walker Bynum, professor of Western medieval history at the Institute for Advanced Study, will speak on "Conceptions of Redemption, Blood, and Suffering in the Later Middle Ages: Their Context and Afterlife."

Bynum teaches medieval European history with a special interest in women's piety, the history of theology and philosophy, and the social background of ideas. She has taught at Harvard University, the University of Washington, and Columbia University, where she held the A. and Alma Schapiro Chair in History. Her publications include Docere Verbo et Exemplo (1979), Jesus as Mother (1982), Holy Feast and Holy Fast (1987), Fragmentation and Redemption (1991), and The Resurrection of the Body in Western Christianity: 200–1336 (1995). She is currently working on the cult of the blood of Christ in the later Middle Ages.

Bynum will discuss the technical theology of redemption as elaborated by 12th-to-15th-century theologians and place this theology in its broader context of art and popular piety. She will also discuss two legacies of this piety and theology, arguing that modern emphasis on, first, the experience of pain and, second, the body as locus of human identity, have roots in the religion of the later Middle Ages.

◆ Sunday, November 9
New Jersey State Prison Documentary—"How Do You Spell Murder?"

Nassau Presbyterian Church 7:30 p.m.
61 Nassau Street, Princeton

Nassau Presbyterian Church presents "How Do You Spell Murder?" a documentary that focuses on an inmate-run literacy program at the New Jersey State Prison in Trenton. The film is part of a fundraiser organized by ABC Literacy Resources, a tutor training and literacy advocacy project run by area volunteers. The documentary is produced by award-winning filmmakers Alan and Susan Raymond, and chronicles a year in the life of prisoners who have overcome illiteracy and now work to help others do the same.

The film also provides an inside view of the oldest continuously operating prison in the United States. Built in 1831, the New Jersey State Prison was visited by both Dickens and de Toqueville. Today, it is a maximum security facility whose inmates serve sentences averaging fifty years.

The film will be followed by a discussion with the filmmakers that will explore the relationship between illiteracy and crime. A donation of $10 for adults and $5 for students and seniors is suggested for the film. ABC Literacy will also host a pre-film dinner at 6:00 p.m. at Nassau Presbyterian Church at a cost of $10.

Advanced registration for the dinner is required and may be made by calling 609-924-8251 or 609-924-0103. More information about ABC Literacy Resources, including poems written by inmates, can be found at the group's web site, abcliteracy.org.

◆ Wednesday, November 12 and Thursday, November 13
Fall Spiritual Retreat with Kent Ira Groff

Johnsonburg Presbyterian Camp and Conference Center, 822 Route 519, Johnsonburg, New Jersey
10:00 a.m. (Wednesday) to 3:00 p.m. (Thursday)

This retreat will focus on integrating spiritual practices in personal, family, and community life and restoring the soul of ministry—the integrity, passion, and wholeness of Christ.

Exploration includes the practices of prayer, discernment, faith stories, silence, and hospitality, and methods to integrate these in worship, administration, education, soul care, and outreach.

There will be quiet times for meditation, journaling, music, and small group reflection. Bring your Bible and a notebook or journal.

Dr. Kent Ira Groff, founding mentor of Oasis Ministries for Spiritual Development, adjunct professor at Lancaster Theological Seminary, and an associate of Holy Cross Monastery in West Park, New York, will lead this event. The retreat is based on his book, The Soul of Tomorrow's Church: Weaving Spiritual Practices in Ministry Together.

The cost for the retreat is $125 per person and includes a private room and four meals. Please call Johnsonburg Presbyterian Camp and Conference Center at 908-852-2349 for more information or for prices for day participants and double occupancy.

Continuing Education Event—"How to Be a Coaching Pastor"

Erdman Hall

10:45 a.m. (Monday) to 3:00 p.m. (Tuesday)

Coaching means more than training or managing. Coaching includes support, encouragement, and commitment among those involved. Good coaching develops a team. A good team develops its members. A good coach equips the team and sends it in to play the game, to make mistakes, and to win!

Participants in this hands-on workshop will learn (1) the elements of good pastoral coaching, (2) the methods and the objectives of pastoral coaching so that elders may also become coaches "for the equipping of the saints, for the work of ministry, for the building up of the body of Christ ...," and (3) how to introduce coaching into the local church. Relational leadership has arrived, and coaching will become its most resilient strength.

Harry E. Chase, former pastor of The Presbyterian Church at Tenafly in Tenafly, New Jersey, will lead this event.

PTS students, staff, and faculty, and their spouses are invited to attend Continuing Education events, but advanced registration is required. Most events are free of charge, but some restrictions do apply. Please contact Continuing Education for more information.

◆ Art Exhibition and Poster Selection for Koinonia Journal's Forum on the Prophetic Witness of Martyrdom in the 21st Century

The topic for Koinonia Journal's annual forum this year, to be held on Thursday, December 4, is "The Blood of the Martyrs Is the Seed of Life: Liberation Theology, Martyrdom, and Prophetic Witness."

The PTS community is invited to create and submit artwork on this theme to be exhibited at the Seminary the week of the forum. The Journal is particularly interested in the contributions of the PTS community's spouses, children, and youth. One piece of artwork will be chosen to be displayed on the poster advertising the forum.

Submissions may be in any medium, and may be two- or three-dimensional—i.e. sculptures, fiber art, etc., will be accepted. All works should be smaller than 18"x12"x6," should weigh less than 10 pounds, and should be constructed in a manner sturdy enough that they can be hung by two cords and withstand being handled by the PTS community's younger members.

The deadline for submissions is Monday, November 24, but those wishing to have their work considered for the poster must submit their work by Thursday, November 20.

Those interested in submitting pieces, and for questions, please contact Sandra Costen Kunz, executive editor of Koinonia Journal at sandra.kunz@ptsem.edu.

◆ Monday, November 24
History Department Lecture—"Conceptions of Redemption, Blood, and Suffering in the Later Middle Ages: Their Context and Afterlife"

Main Lounge 7:30 p.m.

Dr. Caroline Walker Bynum, professor of Western medieval history at the Institute for Advanced Study, will speak on "Conceptions of Redemption, Blood, and Suffering in the Later Middle Ages: Their Context and Afterlife."

Bynum teaches medieval European history, with a special interest in women's piety, the history of theology and philosophy, and the social background of ideas. She has taught at Harvard University, the University of Washington, and Columbia University, where she held the A. and Alma Schapiro Chair in History. Her publications include Docere Verbo et Exemplo (1979), Jesus as Mother (1982), Holy Feast and Holy Fast (1987), Fragmentation and Redemption (1991), and The Resurrection of the Body in Western Christianity: 200–1336 (1995). She is currently working on the cult of the blood of Christ in the later Middle Ages.

Bynum will discuss the technical theology of redemption as elaborated by 12th-to-15th-century theologians and place this theology in its broader context of art and popular piety. She will also discuss two legacies of this piety and theology, arguing that modern emphasis on, first, the experience of pain and, second, the body as locus of human identity, have roots in the religion of the later Middle Ages.

◆ Monday, December 1
Continuing Education Event—"Inside, Outside, Upside Down: Theological Insights from the Lives and Times of Ruth and Esther

Erdman Hall 9:30 a.m.–3:30 p.m.

A Moabitess among the people of Israel, a Jewess in the court of the Persian king—what can these unusual women teach us about living faithfully in a world marked profoundly by the "otherness" of strangers and intimates alike? Beginning with the biblical books of Ruth and Esther, this seminar will explore the themes of ethnocentrism, sexism, and religious identity, and consider their theological implications for Christian discipleship in today's pluralistic context.

Eunny Lee, PTS instructor in Old Testament, will lead this event.

PTS students, staff, and faculty, and their spouses are invited to attend Continuing Education events, but advanced registration is required. Most events are free of charge, but some restrictions do apply. Please contact Continuing Education for more information.

Koinonia Journal's* Annual Forum

Gambrell Room 7:00 p.m.

Martyrdom, that is, witnessing to the reality behind one's religious convictions to the point of death, is a current, present, and frequent reality for many Christians and members of other faith communities across the globe. Koinonia Journal, the Seminary's publication for the work of doctoral students in religious studies, has made martyrdom the focus of its annual forum.

Doctoral students from PTS, Brandeis University, and Baylor University will examine religious martyrdom in the light of: 1) the New Testament and Hebrew Scriptures, 2) the history of Jewish, Christian, and other religious doctrine and practice, and 3) current Jewish, Christian, and other religious doctrine and practice. The central paper, delivered by PTS doctoral student Matthew Lundberg, focuses on the way Latin American liberation theologians, especially Sobrino, have discussed martyrdom. ◆ The Testament

The Testament is a publication for creative expression by the PTS community. We aspire to be a forum for diverse experiences and perspectives. The Testament welcomes submissions of poetry, prose, short essays, photos, and artwork. Also consider submitting sermons for a special edition of The Testament featuring sermons. The theme for the fall semester is "the land, the dead, the margins," and the deadline is Monday, November 24.

The Testament also produces a CD of original music. If you are in a band, sing solo, or play an instrument, please consider contributing to the CD. The deadline for music is Monday, March 15, 2004. There are opportunities to record. Please send submissions or questions to testament@ptsem.edu.

◆ David H.C. Read Preacher/Scholar Award

Madison Avenue Presbyterian Church in New York City announces the David H.C. Read Preacher/Scholar Award to recognize excellence among seminarians who show outstanding promise as preachers and scholars. PTS is permitted two nominees for this $10,000 prize. Applicants must be in their final year of the M.Div. program, in academic good standing, scheduled to receive their degrees in May 2004, and vocationally committed to the parish ministry.

To be considered for nomination, please submit a typed, double-spaced sermon to Lois Haydu in Templeton 103 by Friday, December 5. A committee of the preaching/speech faculty will select two PTS nominees. The students selected will then be required to submit additional materials (including two sermons and two exegetical papers) to the Preacher/Scholar Award Committee. Winners will be determined and announced by Madison Avenue Presbyterian Church on or about April 30, 2004. For more information, contact Lois Haydu at 497-7963.

◆ Art Exhibition and Poster Selection for Koinonia Journal's Forum on the Prophetic Witness of Martyrdom in the 21st Century

The topic for Koinonia Journal's annual forum this year, to be held on Thursday, December 4, is "The Blood of the Martyrs Is the Seed of Life: Liberation Theology, Martyrdom, and Prophetic Witness."

The PTS community is invited to create and submit artwork on this theme to be exhibited at the Seminary the week of the forum. The Journal is particularly interested in the contributions of the PTS community's spouses, children, and youth. One piece of artwork will be chosen to be displayed on the poster advertising the forum.

Submissions may be in any medium, and may be two- or three-dimensional—i.e. sculptures, fiber art, etc., will be accepted. All works should be smaller than 18"x12"x6," should weigh less than 10 pounds, and should be constructed in a manner sturdy enough that they can be hung by two cords and withstand being handled by the PTS community's younger members.

The deadline for submissions is Monday, November 24. Those interested in submitting pieces, and for questions, please contact Sandra Costen Kunz, executive editor of Koinonia Journal, at sandra.kunz@ptsem.edu.

◆ Bursar's Office Hours

From now on, the Bursar's Office will be closed on Wednesday afternoons. The hours will be Monday through Friday, 9:00 a.m. to 12:30 p.m. and Monday, Tuesday, Thursday, and Friday, 1:30 to 4:30 p.m.

Continuing Education Event—"Centering Prayer: Surrendering to God's Transforming Presence"
Erdman Hall
10:45 a.m. (Thursday) to 3:00 p.m. (Friday)

As Thomas Keating has written, contemplative prayer is opening our minds and hearts—our whole being—to God, The Ultimate Mystery, beyond thoughts, words, and emotions. We open our awareness to God whom we know by the faith that is within us—closer than breathing, closer than thinking, closer than choosing, closer than consciousness itself. Centering prayer is a method that supports our desire to move beyond conversation with God to communion with God. In addition to presentations on the historical roots, theological grounding, and method of centering prayer and lectio divina, there will be periods for spiritual practice and processing of one's experiences.

Rita Woehlcke, a sister of Saint Joseph and program associate at the Vincentian Renewal Center, will lead this event.

◆ Thursday, December 4
Koinonia Journal*'s Annual Forum
Gambrell Room 7:00 p.m.

Martyrdom, that is, witnessing to the reality behind one's religious convictions to the point of death, is a current, present, and frequent reality for many Christians and members of other faith communities across the globe. Koinonia Journal, the Seminary's publication for the work of doctoral students in religious studies, has made martyrdom the focus of its annual forum.

Doctoral students from PTS, Brandeis University, and Baylor University will examine religious martyrdom in the light of 1) the New Testament and Hebrew Scriptures, 2) the history of Jewish, Christian, and other religious doctrine and practice, and 3) current Jewish, Christian, and other religious doctrine and practice. The central paper, delivered by PTS doctoral student Matthew Lundberg, focuses on the way Latin American liberation

Lectures in Ethics and Public Affairs—"Wealth and Democracy in America"
Princeton University 4:30 p.m.
Dodds Auditorium

Princeton University's Center for Human Values invites the PTS community to a lecture given by Kevin Phillips, author of Wealth and Democracy (Broadway Books, 2002).

Phillips was best known in the late 1960s to the mid-1990s as America's leading political analyst. This reputation dated from the success and prophecy of his book The Emerging Republican Majority (1969), which was used in the 1968 GOP presidential campaign.

He has served as an administrative assistant to U.S. Representative Paul Fino, New York Republication, chief electoral and voting patterns analyst for the Republican presidential campaign, special assistant to the U.S. Attorney General, a newspaper columnist and editor-publisher of the American Political Report, and a commentator for CBS News, including for the 1984, 1988, 1992, and 1996 election campaigns.

In 1995 he started writing about history, which resulted in the 1999 publication of The Cousins' Wars: Religion, Politics and the Triumph of Anglo-America, a study of the three major English-speaking civil wars—the English Civil War, the American Revolution, and the U.S. Civil War—and their centrality in defining the Anglo-American sequence of world hegemonies that have dominated the world for three centuries.

Today, besides writing books, Phillips is a regular contributor to the Los Angeles Times and National Public Radio.

Orientation to Leading Board and Committee Meetings

Templeton 108 6:30 p.m.

One of the ministerial tasks by which many new clergy say they feel most intimidated is chairing/moderating board and committee meetings. This doesn't have to be the case. Despite the differences between denominations and congregations, there are some questions about the nature of the church, of ministry, and of human social behavior that can guide our thinking about what to do. Also, there are straightforward procedures for holding fruitful meetings. In American society these are customarily built on Robert's Rules of Order.

Geddes W. Hanson, the Charlotte Wilson Newcombe Professor of Congregational Ministry, with support of the Office of Student Relations and Senior Placement, will give an orientation to leading board and committee meetings using Robert's Rules of Order. Dessert will be served.

A Service of Lessons and Carols

Miller Chapel 6:30 and 8:30 p.m.

PTS presents its annual Christmas concert, modeled on the traditional English service of nine lessons and carols, but with a little twist. The Cantate Domino and Jubilate Deo Choirs will join forces in rendering some very traditional carols and anthems, but will also include some more recent compositions, including an anthem composed by Charles Bartow, the Seminary's Carl and Helen Egner Professor of Speech Communication in Ministry, and a traditional Zambian folk song. Readers at the service will include students, faculty, staff, and administrators. The service concludes with caroling by candlelight on the Seminary's quad. Come join us in celebration of the incarnation. The two services are identical.

◆ Volunteers Needed to Help Save New Jersey's Black Bears

New Jersey's first black bear hunt in more than 30 years will begin in December.

A coalition of wildlife protection organizations, hikers, and Native Americans filed suit on December 1 in U.S. District Court to stop New Jersey's bear hunt from taking place on the Delaware Water Gap National Recreation Area. The groups claim that allowing the bear hunt on protected park lands would violate federal environmental laws. Volunteers are being asked for to go into the woods during the hunt to protest the shooting of the black bears.

For more information or to volunteer, contact Sue Russell at the Center for Animal Protection at 908-433-2820; Steve Ember at 732-926-8964; Michael Markarian at The Fund for Animals at 301-585-2591, extension 216; Nancy Perry at the Humane Society of the United States at 202-955-3663; or Jonathan Lovvorn at Meyer & Glitzenstien at 202-588-5206.

Lectures in Ethics and Public Affairs—"Wealth and Democracy in America"
Princeton University 4:30 p.m.
Dodds Auditorium

Princeton University's Center for Human Values invites the PTS community to a lecture given by Kevin Phillips, author of Wealth and Democracy (Broadway Books, 2002).

Phillips was best known in the late 1960s to the mid-1990s as America's leading political analyst. This reputation dated from the success and prophecy of his book The Emerging Republican Majority (1969), which was used in the 1968 GOP presidential campaign.

He has served as an administrative assistant to U.S. Representative Paul Fino, New York Republication, chief electoral and voting patterns analyst for the Republican presidential campaign, special assistant to the U.S. Attorney General, a newspaper columnist and editor-publisher of the American Political Report, and a commentator for CBS News, including for the 1984, 1988, 1992, and 1996 election campaigns.

In 1995 he started writing about history, which resulted in the 1999 publication of The Cousins' Wars: Religion, Politics and the Triumph of Anglo-America, a study of the three major English-speaking civil wars—the English Civil War, the American Revolution, and the U.S. Civil War—and their centrality in defining the Anglo-American sequence of world hegemonies that have dominated the world for three centuries.

Today, besides writing books, Phillips is a regular contributor to the Los Angeles Times and National Public Radio.

◆ Monday, December 15
Orientation to Leading Board and Committee Meetings
Templeton 108 6:30 p.m.

One of the ministerial tasks by which many new clergy say they feel most intimidated is chairing/moderating board and committee meetings. This doesn't have to be the case. Despite the differences between denominations and congregations, there are some questions about the nature of the church, of ministry, and of human social behavior that can guide our thinking about what to do. Also, there are straightforward procedures for holding fruitful meetings. In American society these are customarily built on Robert's Rules of Order.

Geddes W. Hanson, the Charlotte Wilson Newcombe Professor of Congregational Ministry, with the support of the Office of Student Relations and Senior Placement, will give an orientation to leading board and committee meetings using Robert's Rules of Order. Dessert will be served.

Contact: Geddes Hanson
Email: geddes.hanson@ptsem.edu

◆ Monday, December 15
Women's Center Second-Career Women's Social
Witherspoon Lounge 7:00–9:00 p.m

Calling all second-career women at PTS! You are invited to a drop-in or come-and-stay Christmas social. Bring a dish or a snack to share and come and celebrate the season of hope and joy. Please let Bridgett or Arlene know if you plan to attend.

Email: bridgett.green@ptsem.edu or arlene.dunn@ptsem.edu

◆ Tuesday, December 16
BGLASS Christmas Party
Alexander Hall Oratory 8:00–9:30 p.m.

The PTS community is invited to join in the festivities at the BGLASS Christmas party. Refreshments will be served. The final screening of the now-famous "BGLASS Eye for the Seminary Guy," will air as well.

Contact: Dan Vigilante
Phone: 973-769-1889

◆ Wednesday, December 17
Writing Center Workshop
Main Lounge 12:30–1:30 p.m.

This end-of-semester Writing Center workshop will present tips and strategies for writing final papers and final exam essays. It's a great way to prepare as you head into finals.

◆ Wednesday, December 17
A Service of Lessons and Carols
Miller Chapel 6:30 and 8:30 p.m.

PTS presents its annual Christmas concert, modeled on the traditional English service of nine lessons and carols, but with a little twist. The Cantate Domino and Jubilate Deo Choirs will join forces in rendering some very traditional carols and anthems, but will also include some more recent compositions, including an anthem composed by Charles Bartow, the Seminary's Carl and Helen Egner Professor of Speech Communication in Ministry, and a traditional Zambian folk song. Readers at the service will include students, faculty, staff, and administrators. The service concludes with caroling by candlelight on the Seminary quad. Come join us in celebration of the incarnation. The two services are identical.

Phone: 497-7890

◆ Thursday, December 18
ATLAS Christmas Party
Witherspoon Lounge 6:30–9:00 p.m.

The Association of Texas Lovers (ATLAS) is having its annual Christmas party. Whether you are a Texan, love someone from Texas, or just love the Lone Star State yourself, you are invited to enjoy Christmas the Texas way. Oh, and just for fun bring something from Texas!

◆ Currently through Friday, January 23
Erdman Gallery Art Exhibit: Alexander Anufriev, "Angel in New York"
Erdman Hall
A native of Moscow, Alexander Anufriev now lives and works in the United States. As a Soviet-era artist, he exhibited and worked throughout the former Soviet Union and participated in historic dissident exhibitions. He is included in important nonconformist art collections in Europe and the United States. His figurative paintings of angelic beings show angels among us participating in the world of human events, bringing their essence to the everyday world we share with them. Gallery hours are:

Monday–Saturday	8:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m.
Sunday	2:30 to 6:30 p.m.

Please call the Center of Continuing Education for more information.

◆ Facilities Announcements

Snow Reminder

To the PTS community: This is a reminder that when snow is predicted or falling, cars are to be removed from the upper level of the parking deck by the end of the academic/work day. The upper (open) level is considered a commuter or daily parking area and is not for overnight/weekend/long-term parking. Our snow removal staff needs to clear the upper level, and cars parked there hinder this effort. Students who are away for a weekend, holiday, or break must relocate their cars before they go. Please move them to the middle or lower levels where there are usually plenty of available spaces. Cars left on the upper (open) level when it snows will be booted or towed at the owner's expense.

Thank you for your understanding and cooperation in this matter.

Safety during Snow Clearing

Please be aware of the grounds staff while they work to plow and clear snow from Seminary roads, parking lots, and sidewalks. Stay clear of operating equipment whether you are walking or driving. The operators are concentrating on their work—visibility is not always good—and the noise of equipment may keep them from hearings shouts or car horns. Parents, please keep children playing outdoors away from the snow removal trucks and equipment while they are in your area.

Your safety is our first concern; thank you for your understanding and cooperation in this matter.

Seminary Pool Holiday Hours

The Seminary pool will be closed for the holidays from Wednesday, December 24 through Sunday, January 4. The pool will reopen for open swim hours at 4:00 p.m. on Monday, January 5.

Contact: David Poinsett
Phone: 497-7778

◆ Housing and Auxiliary Services Announcements

Shuttle Bus Holiday Schedule

During the holiday break, the shuttle bus will not be in service from Monday, December 22 through Friday, January 23. The shuttle will resume regular service on Monday, January 26.

Thank You for Donating Blood

A heartfelt thank you to all who donated blood at our fall blood drive on Wednesday, November 12. A total of 46 pints was collected. The Red Cross continues to need your support. It's never too late to donate. Please plan to attend the Seminary's next blood drive, scheduled for April.

Dormitory Exterior Doors

For your security and safety, the exterior doors of all dormitories will be locked from Saturday, December 22 through Sunday, January 4. Please use your exterior door key to gain access to your dorm during this period. Please be sure to inform the Office of Housing and Auxiliary Services if you do or do not plan to stay during the break.

Thank You for Recycling

Thank you to all dormitory residents for recycling properly. Your efforts in recycling trash plays an important part in maintaining a healthy environment.

Dormitory and Apartment Residents Holiday Lights

Lights and decorations cannot be hung on the exterior of any building. Lights and decorations may be hung inside rooms, hallways, and lounges, but not bathrooms. All lights and extension cords must be U.L.-listed and in good working condition. They cannot block or interfere with any forms of egress, pose any trip hazard, or interfere with daily cleaning. The main concern here is safety. We reserve the right to take down any lights or decorations that we feel are unsafe or block egress or daily cleaning.

Dormitory Residents Meal Plan Changes

If you are looking to change your meal plan for the spring semester, change request forms are now available in the Office of Housing and Auxiliary Services. The deadline for changes is Friday, January 23. No changes will be accepted once classes begin on Monday, January 26.
